IT TOOK A PANDEMIC TO REALIZE THE VALUE OF INFECTION CONTROL

The need for proper infection control and isolation measures at medical facilities across the globe has never been higher than today. Having a secure place to store PPE for your hard-working staff is vital. Harloff isolation carts typically feature deep drawers and removable antimicrobial tops. Multiple sizes, configurations and colors of carts are available although most come in a yellow color indicative of isolation areas.

ISOLATION CARTS

Isolation carts, also referred to as infection control carts, are intended to help prevent the spread of infectious illness and disease within a healthcare setting. Storage solutions for PPE supplies help to reduce the risk of pathogen transmission between patients, healthcare workers and visitors.

Stopping the spread of VREs, MRSAs and other infectious microbes can help save hospitals millions of dollars as well as improve patient outcomes. Our carts help lower hospital costs and liability by limiting the number of healthcare acquired infections.
